

In their shoes!

In each of the toes write down a key word to describe how that individual would be feeling.

Imagine you are .....

Make sure you write using first person narrative, because you will be writing from their point of view and perspective.

Using your knowledge of this person and the events they have experienced pick a key moment in their life and put yourself in their shoes.

Reflect on the events and emotions you think they would have felt.